About MYA

The Mediterranean Youth Academy – MYA seeks to qualify and prepare young people from the Euro-Mediterranean region using non-formal education as a tool for providing Mediterranean youth with relevant and needed skills to face the specific issues and challenges widely felt in the Euro-Mediterranean region. By doing so, the initiative aims at promoting awareness and empowering youth as active role players in the decision and policy-making processes.

MYA mission and goals:

- Qualify and prepare selected young applicants from the Euro-Mediterranean area through interactive, bottom-up training programs focused on issues that are relevant to the region.
- Engage participants in proposing recommendations to policymakers on key topics, as well as in proposing relevant initiatives to possibly be implemented in the Mediterranean region.
- Enhance youth participation to achieve active engagement in the decision and policy-making processes.
- Build the capacity of youth to keep pace with development and enable them to face global technological, environmental, and social challenges.
- Contribute to achieving and promoting SDGs 4,5,6,8,10,13,16, and 17.
- Opening a dialogue platform between youth and decision-makers and working on innovative and sustainable solutions and recommendations to improve the economies and societies of the Mediterranean region.

Objectives of the 3rd edition of the MYA

After two successful editions held in Egypt, the third edition of the MYA will be held in Barcelona, Spain. The initiative is co-organized by Mediterranean Youth Foundation for Development – MYF and the Union for the Mediterranean with the support of the German Development Cooperation.

This edition will be delivered in the format of a four-day training program aiming at enhancing the participants' skills and facilitating their active role in the decision and policy-making processes related to the three specific MYA Thematic Clusters: Climate Change & Climate Justice, Social Inclusion, and Youth Employment. The objectives of the 3rd edition of the MYA are:

1. Engage up to 120 young people in proposing recommendations to policymakers on the key topics that will be discussed during the workshops.
2. Facilitate the identification of 3-5 youth-related initiatives to emerge during the MYA workshops with a bottom-up approach. These selected initiatives will eventually receive, at a further stage, implementation support by the Mediterranean Youth Foundation for Development – MYF.
3. Contribute to the drafting of the “Initiatives for the Mediterranean” guidebook to be produced by MYF. The guidebook will provide insights into how youth-led initiatives can contribute to addressing issues widely felt in the Euro-Mediterranean region and discussed during the MYA, such as climate change, social inclusion, and youth employment.

Interested candidates must submit the applications and their attachments before 31/05/2023 at 23:59h (CEST).

To ensure equal treatment of applicants, the co-organizers cannot give a prior opinion on the eligibility of applicants and the action. No individual replies will be given to questions. All questions and answers, as well as other important notices to applicants during the evaluation procedure will be published on the UfM website as the need arises.

Evaluation and selection process

The submitted applications will be screened by an Evaluation Committee composed of members of the Mediterranean Youth Foundation for Development – MYF.

Specific selection criteria have been established to develop a clear, non-discriminatory, non-prejudicial, and fair-competition evaluation process. The selection procedure will be based on an evaluation of the following criteria:

- Relevance
- Consistency
- Motivation and interest
- Previous knowledge related to the MYA thematic clusters.

Step 1: OPENING & ADMINISTRATIVE CHECKS

During the opening and administrative check, the following criteria are assessed:

- Date of receipt of application. If the stated application deadline is not met, the application is automatically rejected.
- Completion of the application. If the application form is not filled out in all its parts and/or if the required documents are not uploaded to the application, the application is automatically rejected.
- Applications will be automatically rejected if applicants:
 - are not between 18-29 years old by the time of the application submission.
 - and/or if they are not from one of the UfM Member States.
 - and/or if they are non-EU nationals and they don't have a valid passport by the time of the application submission.
 - and/or if they don't have an intermediate level of English.
 - and/or if they don't have availability to follow the full 4 days of MYA.

Step 2: EVALUATION OF THE APPLICATION

Within step 2, evaluators will consider only the applications that comply with the eligibility criteria. The quality and relevance of the proposals will be evaluated using a 100-point scoring system and considering two types of evaluation criteria: selection and inclusive award criteria. The selection criteria evaluate the applicant's motivations and interest in participating in the 3rd edition of the MYA:

- A well-described motivation for participating in the 3rd edition of the MYA and realistic learning expectations – up to 80/100 points.
- Knowledge and interest of the applicant in the Mediterranean region in general and in one or more MYA Thematic clusters – up to 18 points

In the case of applications which may gain the exact same score, up to 2 extra points must be given to applicants who have not participated in previous editions of the MYA.

Gender balance will be a transversal approach to be used in the whole evaluation process to ideally achieve at least a 40% representation of female participants in the 3rd edition of the Mediterranean Youth Academy. In addition, the geographical balance must be guaranteed as well as a general criterion to avoid overrepresentation from a few specific countries.

All these criteria cover the relevance of the applicant, the consistency with the objectives of the call for proposals, the quality of the applicants' interests and motivations.

A maximum total of 150 applicants will be invited to participate in the 3rd stage of the evaluation process which includes online interviews.

Step 3: ONLINE INTERVIEW

Only pre-selected applicants that successfully pass step 2 on the evaluation process will be invited to a short online interview to be held between June and July 2023.

The performance of pre-selected applicants during the online interview will be added to the score assigned during step 2 of the evaluation process. During the online interview, candidates will be evaluated according to the following evaluation grid:

6. Online Interview evaluation grid
6.1 The presentation of the motivations for attending the MYA is consistent with the submitted written application	Up to 10 points
6.2 The interest of the candidate in the Mediterranean region is concretely explained	Up to 10 points
6.3 The applicant has a clear idea of what he/she wanted to benefit from by participating in the 3 rd edition of the MYA.	Up to 10 points
6.4 The applicant explained in a clear and impactful way his/her interest and/or previous knowledge in at least one of the thematic clusters of the MYA	Up to 10 points
6.5 The applicant has an adequate level of English?	Up to 10 points
TOTAL SCORE	Max. 50 points

Notification of the results

Following a final assessment of the application eligibility and consistency and the clarification of any doubts that may have arisen during the evaluation process, applicants will be notified of the provisional results of the selection process no later than 3 months prior to the MYA.

Any requests for clarification or complaints against the selection process must be submitted by the concerned applicant to mya@myfmed.org within 5 calendar days after the announcement of the call's results. The email should indicate the full name of the applicant, the object of the complaint, and evidence of the alleged breach. Complaints will be examined by the Evaluation Committee based on the information provided, which will inform the applicant of the decision taken within the following 15 calendar days.

Signature of the commitment letter to attend the MYA

Selected applicants will each sign a letter with the Mediterranean Youth Foundation for Development – MYF committing to fully attend the four-day MYA. Selected applicants who will not fully join the initiative and that will not be able to give a valid and certified reason will be asked to refund possible costs related to their participation that would have already been incurred (i.e., flight tickets).
